Join the DC Anti Trafficking Task Force's awareness training and learn what human trafficking is, how it affects the nation's capital, and what you can do to spot and report potential victims.

Human trafficking is a form of modern day slavery that is alive and well in the District of Columbia. Anyone can be a victim, but anyone can make a difference. There is a role you can play, and we invite you to join us to hear directly from experts, survivors, and members of the DC Anti Trafficking Task Force, a collaborative network of law enforcement and nonprofit partners. Social work, legal, medical, and education professionals are high encouraged to attend.
